Subject: RE: Affected and Interested Parties Portion 9 of farm La terra de Lucque no175 and a portion of remainder farm Terra de Luc 1070 Franschoek

Dear All,

Following the recent correspondence, we held an internal meeting with the Head of our EIA Department, Chantel Muller, to confirm the appropriate way forward.

In terms of the applicable environmental legislation, we are required to notify all registered Interested and Affected Parties (I&APs) of their right to appeal the decision relating to the recently undertaken Part 1 Environmental Authorisation (EA) Amendment.

The Registered I&AP database currently in our possession was compiled by the original environmental consultant, Sharples Environmental Consulting, during the original environmental authorisation process and was subsequently provided to us when we undertook the Part 1 EA Amendment.

I have cross-checked the details of the individuals copied into this correspondence against this database. I have been unable to locate the relevant names, email addresses, contact numbers or addresses on the Registered I&AP database provided to us.

Should you believe that you were formally registered as an I&AP during the original environmental process, you will need to consult with the previous environmental consultant regarding the status and validity of your registration and why your details do not appear on the database subsequently provided to us.

Our obligation is to notify those parties appearing on the Registered I&AP database available to us. Please also note that we are unable to distribute a copy of this database, as it contains the personal information and contact details of third parties and must be handled in accordance with the Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA).

For clarity, the Part 1 EA Amendment in question relates solely to a change in the name of the holder of the Environmental Authorisation. The amendment does not introduce any change to the authorised development, its scope, footprint or approved activities.

We trust the above clarifies the position.

Kind regards,
